

Course Substitution

Course substitutions are used to meet missing requirements in a degree or certificate, including for individual courses and unit deficiencies. Through this process each course is evaluated for course equivalency toward requirements of certificate programs, associate degrees, and Cal-GETC.

