

BIOL 260 Human Physiology

---

BIOL 260 HUMAN PHYSIOLOGY

Students learn through lecture and laboratory experiences how human organ systems integrate functions to maintain homeostasis and to regulate change and growth processes. This course is intended for students in kinesiology, nursing, radiologic technology, respiratory therapy, and for those in related fields such as psychology. This course is an elective for pre-dental and pre-medical students. Letter Grade Only. Degree Credit.

Units: 5

Hours/semester: 48-54 Lecture; 96-108 Lab; 96-108 Homework

Prerequisites: BIOL 250 and CHEM 192 or CHEM 210 or CHEM 410

AA/AS Degree Requirements: Area B2, B3

Transfer Credit: CSU (CSU GE Area B2, B3), UC (IGETC Area 5B, 5C)

C-ID: BIOL 120 B

