

ETHN 130 Introduction to Latinx Studies

---

ETHN 130 INTRODUCTION TO LATINX STUDIES

An examination of the histories, experiences, and philosophies of Latinx communities. National origins groups such as Mexicans, Puerto Ricans, Cubans, Salvadorans/Salvadorians and others will be considered through the lens of history, culture, literature, etc. Ethnic Studies concepts such as racialization, white supremacy, intersectionality, liberation, and decolonization will be utilized as a basis for understanding injustice and creating a more equitable society for racialized communities. Grade Option (Letter Grade or Pass/No Pass). Degree Credit.

Units: 3

Hours/semester: 48-54 Lecture; 96-108 Homework

Recommended: Eligibility for ENGL 100.

Transfer Credit: CSU

