

FASH 201 Fashion Sustainability

FASH 201 FASHION SUSTAINABILITY

Introduction to critical reasoning and evaluation of social, environmental, and economic issues in fashion sustainability. Students will develop research, reflection, and analytical skills to assess consumer decision-making and its global impact. Includes hands-on sewing activities for beginners to learn basic mending and garment care techniques that promote sustainable practices. Grade Option (Letter Grade or Pass/No Pass). Degree Credit.

Units: 3

Hours/semester: 40-45 Lecture; 24-27 Lab; 80-90 Homework

Transfer Credit: CSU, UC

